

There are far too many important issues before the Congress today than this. I have been an XM subscriber for two years now and enjoy the content and programming that XM provides. The FCC and the NAB have bigger fish to fry with Howard Stern and other wacky morning shows that are offensive and generally lacking in good taste. We pay for our radio subscriptions, and we deserve the right to decide what we want to listen to with no commercials or other interruptions. If I lived in LA, New York, or Dallas, I would want constant traffic updates as well. Leave our XM Radio alone!!!
